

DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Dear Readers,

Greetings as we embark on the wonderful month of August, a time of fresh beginnings, patriotic celebrations, and new journeys. I'm delighted to address you through this month's bulletin, which revolves around the theme of "Freshers, Independence Day, and New Life Journey."

To our incoming PGDM students, I extend a hearty welcome. Your arrival is a testament to the pursuit of knowledge, growth, and a promising future. As you step onto our campus, know that you're not just joining a college but a community of like-minded individuals. Your presence adds a new dimension to our academic landscape, bringing fresh energy, ideas, and aspirations. Embrace this phase with open hearts and eager minds. Make friends, build networks, and nurture the spirit of collaboration. Your time here is more than a degree; it's an experience that will shape your future. It's the beginning of a lifelong journey, and I encourage you to cherish every moment.

August 15th marks a significant day in our nation's history – Independence Day. It's a day when we commemorate the struggles and sacrifices made by our forefathers to secure our freedom. As students, you have the unique privilege of acquiring knowledge, and with it, a different form of freedom. This education empowers you to think critically, solve problems, and lead with integrity. I urge you to use this knowledge responsibly and passionately. Let's remember that our freedom is not just the absence of constraints but the presence of opportunities. Explore those opportunities, make informed decisions, and contribute positively to your communities, country, and the world at large. Let the principles of independence – liberty, equality, and justice – be your guiding light.

For our continuing students, you are already well-acquainted with the rigors and rewards of PGDM education. This new academic year is a chapter in the book of your life journey, offering new experiences and challenges. It's a time to set fresh goals, explore uncharted territories, and strive for excellence. Your PG journey is a transformational one, marked by discovery – both of the world around you and of the person you are becoming. This is your opportunity to reflect on your aspirations, embrace change, and adapt to the evolving business landscape. Embrace it as a new chapter in your life's journey, a chapter filled with knowledge, character development, and a sense of purpose.

In this edition of the bulletin, we aim to provide you with insights, stories, and events that align with these themes. I encourage you to actively participate in college life, attend events, engage with faculty, and collaborate with your

XISS celebrated 77th Independence Day amidst joy and fervor

Three Institutional Scholarships worth Rs 7,60,000 were also awarded to 24 students.

XISS, Ranchi, celebrated the 77th Independence Day amidst pride and joy on 15 August, in its campus. The event commenced with the hoisting of the Tricolour by Director, XISS followed by the National Anthem to set the spirit of the day. Faculty, Staff, and students attended the event and celebrated the day. In his address Director, XISS said, that on our 77th Independence Day, we unite in celebration of our enduring spirit and reaffirm our devotion to "Nation first, always first!" We must nurture self-confidence, trust, uphold rights, and follow all our duties. Towards the conclusion, he said that together, let us foster a fearless, informed society and march toward liberty, unity, and progress and this Independence Day fuels our commitment to a stronger, united nation. The event was followed by cultural events which began with a welcome dance, patriotic group songs and a power-packed skit performance by the students of Marketing Management Programme. The event was organised by the students of the Marketing Management under the guidance of Dr Bhabani Prasad Mahapatra, Head of Programme, PGDM Marketing Management and other faculty members.

XISS proudly celebrated International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples

Theme of the year: 'Indigenous Youth as Agents of Change for Self-Determination'

XISS, Ranchi, proudly celebrated the International Day of the World's Indigenous Peoples amidst joy and harmony in its campus on August 9 2023. Every year, this day is celebrated as the International Day of the World's Indigenous People to promote and protect the rights of the Indigenous population. The faculty, staff, and students of XISS celebrated the peaceful life of the Indigenous Community as they actively participated in this event.

Dr Joseph Marianus Kujur SJ, Director, XISS, in his address highlighted the theme of the day for the year, 'Indigenous Youth as Agents of Change for Self-Determination.' He said, that the timing could not be better for the theme as the world is looking towards the youth power of India. He emphasised that the tribal community needs to widen their belief system and while in a struggle for their identity, now need to work along with modernity, still holding on to their roots.

The staff and students of XISS later presented several group dance performances on local songs and enjoyed the day in unison as they celebrated the event.

Leadership Talk @XISS

Mr Salil Chinchore, CHRO, ElasticRun delivered message on Navigating Employee Engagement Challenges in Startups

Under the Leadership Talk Series at XISS, Mr Salil Chinchore, CHRO, ElasticRun, delivered an insightful message to the First-Year students of Human Resource Management (HRM) on 29 August 2023. In this insightful leadership session about the lifecycle of startups, their business models, the difficulties they face, issues with employee engagement, and twelve leverage experiences were discussed in detail by Mr Salil.

A unicorn in B2B e-commerce, ElasticRun is supported by illustrious investors like Goldman Sachs, among others. This startup, which connects FMCG and grocery brands through a network of tiny outlets and enables banking institutions to expand financial services to rural customers with the use of technology-led data and AI, was also referred to by the CHRO as "Rural Amazon for Rural India".

Mr Chinchore also talked about the relationship between business model characteristics and DNA of the unicorn startup. He concluded the session by giving thanks to XISS and motivated the students of First-Year HRM students to learn more and more about the dynamic changing world and have a purpose in life.

Mr Kireet Nuthalapati, Senior Lead, Talent Acquisition, Infosys interacted with students of First-Year at XISS

XISS, Ranchi, organised a leadership Talk by Mr Kireet Nuthalapati, Senior Lead, Talent Acquisition at Infosys with the students of batch of 2023-25 of all four programmes in the campus on 4 August 2023. In his captivating address to the young minds, he advised them to become solution providers and to gain good domain knowledge. He also advised them to be flexible and be ready to work in different capacities in the organisation.

In his session, he talked about the opportunities of switching of careers within the organisation, even from one domain to the other. He further mentioned about a management trainee's role in the organisation and their career progression while emphasising on the culture and business at Infosys. Artificial Intelligence, Financial Breakdown, ChatGPT, Forecasting Business, Data Analytics, and Robotics were amongst the highly discussed topics during the session. Students also participated in the talk during a Q&A session. The talk ended with a quiz competition, in which the students actively participated.

Mr Kamal Joshi, GM-HR, Banas Dairy shared insights, and HR expertise with students at XISS

The leadership talk conducted by Mr Kamal Joshi, GM-HR, Banas Dairy at the XISS Campus on 28 August 2023 was a valuable and inspiring event for the students. Such interactions between industry professionals and students prove to be highly beneficial in preparing students for their future careers and providing them with real-world insights and guidance. Mr Kamal's experience and expertise in HR likely provided valuable perspectives on the professional world and career development for the students of all four programmes at XISS.

Mr Kamal emphasized the importance of having passion for work and loving one's work, as it constitutes a significant portion of one's daily life. He encouraged students to embrace their mistakes and see them as opportunities for growth. He urged all to showcase one's individual strengths and qualities. Additionally, he advised students to compete with themselves rather than comparing themselves to others and that self-improvement and growth should be their primary focus.

He also quoted example of companies like Apple, constantly adding features to their products to illustrate the importance of continuous learning and development in the job market. The engagement and interaction with students through Q&A made the session even more enriching for the attendees.
